GOULD ACADEMY

GOULD ELEVEN AT NORWAY SATURDAY

Gould Academy's second 1954 game will be at Norway High this Saturday at 2 p. m. Coach Scott's Huskies got off to a good start last week with a 27-0 win over South Paris. The team will probably use the same starting line-up as they all weathered the opener with no casualties. Rodman Barlow, a reserve lineman will be out for the remainder of the season due to a shoulder injury at Paris, and Bill Daley, regular end, who has not yet seen service will not be available for another week. South Paris has a one touchdown victory over Norway which leaves the Huskies favored to win this Saturday.

SOUTH PARIS DEFEATED

Gould opened the 1954 grid season with a victory over South Paris by a score of 27-0 at the Oxford County Fair Grounds last Saturday. The Huskies' captain, Edward Burnham, scored twice with sparkling displays and center David Biggins tallied on a pass interception. Bob Whitley and Lynn Foster were the Cardinals best gainers.

Summary: Touchdowns— Burnham 2, Murphy 1, Biggins 1.

Points After Touchdowns: V Corkum 3 (placekicks).

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM WINS OPENER

Placing five runners in the first six places, Gould defeated Dixfield High School 16:45 last Friday at Dixfield. It was the opening start for the Huskies who uncovered two capable new harriers in John Chase and Fred Fanning who took first and second respectively. Captain Bill Coolidge sped into third slot followed by Frank Benson who cut down his opponent's lead at the tape to cop fourth. Bob Edney picked up sixth position to end the Gould scoring. Two freshmen runners, B Benson and G Whitten, showed possibilities in placing eighth and ninth ahead of all but two Dixfield runners.

This Thursday at 3:30 p. m., the Gould team will run against Fryeburg Academy on the local course. Fryeburg was state preparatory school champions in 1953 and 1954, and as they have four of last year's team back, they should present a difficult combination for the Gould thinclads to overcome.

The Girls' Athletic Association enjoyed a hike and cookout at Swan's Corner on Wednesday.

The annual Mt Washington trip for girls of the Academy is scheduled for Saturday, October 9. They will be accompanied by Miss Hale and Miss Macdougall.

THIS IS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, OCT. 3 TO 9

Maine farm families are asked to look for and eliminate fire hazards in their homes, barns, and on their farms this week. This is being observed as National Fire Prevention Week, and has been so proclaimed by President Eisenhower. During the past year farm fires have caused a loss of about 130 million dollars worth of American property and the death of about three thousand farm people. And the worst of it is, more of these fires are preventable.

Gould Academy's Oldest Alumnus Born Here 104 Years Ago Friday

THE REVEREND HERVEY W. CHAPMAN of the Class of 869, Gould Academy, and 1873, Bowdoin College, shakes hands ith Dr. James S. Coles, President of Bowdoin College. This icture was taken two years ago when Mr. Chapman, believed to e the oldest living graduate of any college in the country, was 02. He will be 104 on October 15.

he Reverend Hervey Wilford pman of Oakland, California, observe his 104th birthday on day, October 15. A member of ld Academy's class of 1869 and owdoin College graduate in 1873, was principal of high schools in nebunk and Brunswick before ring Yale Divinity School in . While serving a parish in sboro, N. H., he became ill of erculosis and moved to Garfield, sas, and later to California. He ht school there and later held orates in Kelseyville, Lakeport, e Valley, Visalia and Sterling . He retired from active min- in 1926 but until last year ht Sunday School classes. He elieved to be the oldest living uate of any college in the United States.

Mr Chapman was born in Bethel Oct. 15, 1850, the son of Timothy Hilliard and Sarah Newell Chapman. Mrs Chapman, who died in January 1951, was Mary Woolsey before their marriage in 1885. They had four sons, 12 grandchildren, and five great grandchildren.

Until last year he was a regular attendant of the First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley, but is now more or less confined to his home. After Dr James S Coles, president of Bowdoin College, visited alumni in California in 1952, he reported that Bowdoin's oldest alumnus was no longer able to work in his garden as he had done up to that time. He had to slow down, on doctor's orders.

PLAN TESTIMONIAL PROGRAM FOR DR. GARD TWADDLE

Plans for a testimonial honoring Dr Gard Twaddle of Auburn are under way in charge of a committee headed by George Davis of Lewiston. The event is scheduled for Wednesday evening, Nov. 10, at the Lewiston Armory. Music will be supplied by the bands of Lewiston and Edward Little high schools and speakers from all over New England will be heard.

Dr Twaddle has been a member of the staff of the Maine General Hospital since he went there as an intern after receiving the doctor of medicine degree from Bowdoin Medical School.

Dr Twaddle was born at Bethel, Jan. 31, 1890, the son of Dr John A and Harriet Brown Twaddle. He attended the Bethel town schools, Gould Academy and Hebron Academy.

Dr Twaddle is a member of the Androscoggin County Medical Association, the Maine Medical Association, members of the Auburn Exchange Club and the Shrine. His home at 57 Goff St., Auburn, is the same one to which he moved when he came to the community 38 years ago. He married the former Jessie Farley in 1918, and has two children, Gard Twaddle Jr., and Mrs Nancy Twaddle Meserve.

GREAT BOOKS DISCUSSION PROGRAM TO BEGIN OCT. 21

Let's think for ourselves.

This is an invitation to take part in the great Books Discussion program—one of the most stimulating adult education programs of our times. GREAT BOOKS Discussion groups are open to all adults, free of charge. There are no educational requirements other than the ability to read, and a willingness to learn.

This is an invitation—

To learn to read with greater understanding and discernment.

To learn to communicate your ideas with greater ease.

To learn to evaluate the opinions expressed by others.

To learn to think for yourself.

The first meeting is Thursday, Oct. 21, from 8:00 to 10:00 p. m. in the Bethel Public Library.

COUNTY CHRISTIAN YOUTH COUNCIL MEETS AT FRYEBURG

Last Sunday afternoon the youth groups of the Bethel Methodist and Congregational Churches attended the Oxford County Christian Youth Council in Fryeburg. The Council opened with a worship service, followed by a business meeting. Rev Tjaard Hommes gave an eye-witness account of the World Council of Churches in Evanston, Illinois, then he showed slides of the meeting. After the World Council report a picnic lunch was eaten with steaming hot cocoa being served by the host church. When all had finished eating Rev Robert Carter led the group in singing some lively old-time gospel songs and a few secular oldtimers. Rev Kenneth Gray then led the youth in a recreational period. Next on the program came Rev Carl Seaburg with an interesting presentation of "Christian Youth in Europe." He told about his experience as director of a youth work camp in England. He introduced the group to a Swedish cook and her English helper who had a hard time with Swedish language and cooking, the good-looking French lad, Jean Pierre, and the Dutch boy who had to blow the big nose.

The climax of the Council meeting came in a panel discussion on "The Christian Youth in High School." A school teacher led the lively discussion. First the panel was asked to define "Christian." After such definitions as following God's commandments, "The Golden Rule," and practicing good sportsmanship, it was decided that being a Christian youth meant abiding by the teachings of Jesus Christ and applying His teaching in high school life. A Christian youth's actions outside of high school was also discussed. How should youth act in society? Should they follow the crowd in drinking and swearing? Their answer was let your conscience be your guide and Christ's teachings be your conscience's guide. The subject of youth in church came to the conclusion that church attendance is based upon attitude. One should attend church because he believes in the church and what it stands for. In forming habits youth must learn to think for itself.

The council closed with a brief worship service and nearly 75 Christian young people returned to their own church to tell their people about a vital, living, religious experience in fellowship with other Christian youths.

Bazaar Committee to Sponsor Party

The General Committee of Bethel Bazaar met at the Legion Rooms last Friday evening with a small attendance.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss and plan a Hallowe'en Party. After much discussion it was decided to observe the holiday on Saturday evening, Oct. 30, and as the Legion annually has a party for the younger children, that the committee would have a party for children of Crescent Park School age and up.

The final meeting for the arrangements will be Oct. 15th, at 7:30 p. m. when it is hoped there will be a larger attendance. All interested people are invited to attend. — Harriett Noyes, secretary; Charles Heino, chairman.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

No doubt almost everyone knows the results of the recent Special Town Meeting.

The voters accepted the new "Way" to Crescent Park lots. With an appropriation of $2,800.00, we expect to start work as near Oct. 18th as possible.

The Town also voted to purchase a power grader, this is already at work and the first day gave indication of getting over the road in one-half the time required by the truck drawn equipment as well as doing better work.

MRS. MARION TYLER

Mrs Marion Tyler, widow of Maurice Tyler, died Sunday at the home of Mr and Mrs Fred Hall. She had been in ill health for the past several years.

She was born in Bethel, May 13, 1873, daughter of Freeland and Sophronia Bennett Bennett, and lived her entire life here.

Survivors include three nieces: Mrs Clarence Meserve and Miss Eleanor Jordan of Mechanic Falls, and Mrs Clayton Tucker of Portland.

Funeral services were held at the Greenleaf funeral home, Wednesday afternoon, Rev Charles Pendleton officiating. Interment was in West Bethel Flat cemetery.

ATTENDANCE AT RELIGIOUS SCHOOL NEARLY DOUBLED

The last of three sessions of the School of Religious Education, sponsored by the Oxford County Council of Churches, was held at the West Parish Congregational Church Tuesday. This is the fifth year that this school has been held and the largest number of students was registered this year. Seventy-nine were enrolled in three classes, mostly Sunday School teachers, coming from Norway, South Paris, Bryant Pond, Locke Mills, Newry, West Bethel, and Bethel. This is nearly double the number of previous years.

Instructors included Dr Wilbur I Bull, Waterford, music; Rev David Novotny, Gorham, N. H., young adult work; Rev Gladys York, Yarmouth, kindergarten; Mrs Eunice Buck, Naples, improving the Sunday School, Rev Robert Carter Bethel, youth; and Rev Charles Pendleton, Bethel, growth of the English Bible.

To Build Street-- Purchase Grader

Some 50 or more voters assembled at a special town meeting last Friday reached favorable decisions on the four articles presented in the warrant. They voted to authorize the selectmen and treasurer to buy a power grader and to transfer $2,000 from the surplus to the truck rental account to be used toward the purchase. They also agreed to accept the town way as laid out by the selectmen northeasterly from Paradise Street and to borrow and appropriate $2800 for construction of the street.

Town Manager Rozell gave an excellent explanation of all details of the articles and answered several questions. He traced the history of the various routes offered for approval at earlier hearings and explained the last location as presented at the Sept. 27 hearing. The proposed grader purchase at $5000, payable over a 20-month period was explained, showing possibility of year-round use and some rental income.

The grader arrived in town Monday, and work on the new street is expected to begin soon.

BETHEL EXTENSION GROUP PLANS DUTCH SUPPER

The Bethel Evening Extension Group met Tuesday evening at the Home Economics Cottage with 20 members present. Plans were made for the Dutch supper to be held at the Methodist Church on Nov. 1. This will be for the seven extension groups in this area. Rev Tjaard Hommes, pastor of the First Congregational Church in Fryeburg, will be the guest speaker. Rev Hommes is a native of Holland.

Mrs Abbie Brown, chairman, appointed the following nominating committee to report at the November meeting: Mrs Rachel MacKay, Mrs Florice Paul, Mrs Phyllis Dock, Mrs Abbie Brown, Mrs Beatrice Brown. Following the business meeting, Mrs Sibyl Nary instructed the group in making and refinishing picture frames. Refreshments were served.

PURITY CHAPTER, O.E.S., HOLDS INSPECTION

Inspection of Purity Chapter, OES, was held Oct. 6 at Masonic Hall with Mrs Elizabeth Calderwood, Biddeford Grand Conductress as Inspecting Officer. The meeting was preceded by a supper served by Helen Runnels, Patricia Bennett, Lucia Tilander, Frances Saunders and Margaret Trimward. The dining room was decorated in fall colors and was in charge of Barbara Brown and Norma Buck. The hall was also beautifully decorated with late fall flowers. Eleven guest chapters were represented. Mrs Eugenia Dickson, District Deputy Grand Matron, District Five, was in attendance. The degrees of the order were conferred. The Inspecting Officer was presented a corsage and gift from the Chapter.

The Ways and Means Club will hold a special meeting Oct. 20th at 7:30 at the Masonic Hall. Refreshments will be served.

READERS MAY HELP TO MAKE THE CITIZEN BETTER

This week a questionnaire has been mailed to part of the Citizen's list of subscribers, in an effort to learn opinions of our readers on desirable features of this newspaper. It is hoped that enough response will be received so that we will be able to make improvements by adopting suggested changes. As it was not practicable to mail to our entire list, about half of the number has been reached by sending to every other name. Other interested subscribers or readers purchasing single copies are asked to send in suggestions for improvement or ask for a copy of the questionnaire.

Enjoy Your Work

We were reading recently about a professional man who discovered after some 45 years of practice that he had picked the wrong profession. As reported he says that he has to pay the man that mows his lawn as much as he used to get for 10 hours work over a dental chair. The possibility that the doctor has a large lawn, or that years ago he did not charge enough, is not our concern today.

From time to time this interests us. Many people are not pleased with their "lot." Many cannot change their lifework without a major rearrangement of their lives. But it is seldom that one cannot make the best of such circumstances as they cannot control. It would seem that the doctor's gripe was because of the small income netted during a lifetime's work. This can be understood of course. However, for a person to continue 45 years in an underpaid job unless he found the satisfaction of enjoyment in his chosen profession is beyond our understanding.

Many a person has been fitted for work through long study or learning a trade, only to find something else that offered a more pleasing use for their talent, perhaps at a lower monetary recompense. Certainly their happiness is to be considered. Its worth is not to be estimated. It cannot be taxed. And money alone never made anyone very happy, although it is quite necessary in reasonable quantities.

Although we cannot sympathize, we have only pity for people who remain displeased with their life's work. Certainly they missed something along the way which should have made up for the lack of cash. Perhaps he wouldn't have been satisfied anyway.

Economic Highlights . . . .

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

There is an invaluable natural resource which most of us take for granted—water. The nation's water supply, obviously, is as important as its supply of air. So a recent information bulletin published by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States which deals with our water situation and some developing problems is of wide interest.

Our water needs are now four times as great as they were in 1900. Half of that increase is accounted for by the fact that the population has doubled. The other half results from the fact that the per-capita consumption also has doubled and has reached what the Chamber terms "the fantastic figure of 1100 gallons a day"—yes, that means for each person! There are three primary reasons for this jump. First is the growth of industry. It takes 65,000 gallons of water of produce a single ton of steel, and one Louisiana oil refinery alone uses more than the city of Cleveland. The industrial demand is expected to more than double by 1975—and that doesn't take into account the possibility of new atomic industries.

Second, individuals use much more water than they used to. The home appliances, such as washing machines, are big consumers. And people take more baths!

Third is the great increase in water for irrigation. At present, this trend is especially marked in the East—and most Eastern crops require far more water than those produced in the West.

What it all adds up to, the Chamber says, is "greater competition for water between agriculture and industry, town and country."

So far as the nation as a whole is concerned, we have plenty of water. But many areas have been facing shortages—and proportionately, these have been most frequent in the larger communities. According to the bulletin, of the 93 water systems serving cities of more than 100,000 population, 35 systems were overtaxed and experienced some degree of shortage last year. Idaho, Rhode Island and Mississippi were the only states where no restrictions on water use were reported.

Basically, water shortage prevention is a two-fold process. The first requirement is better regulation. This means catching and holding more rain where it falls, through improved conservation practices, and by both natural and artificial replacement of water in the underground reservoirs. The second requirement is expansion of community water systems, many of which are out of date.

Finally, new sources of water are in prospect. An electrical process for removing salt from brackish water is well advanced. Experiments are also underway in methods of converting sea water into fresh. This was done successfully during World War II by the Navy, but on a small scale. The present object is to discover a large-scale process that is cheap enough to be practical.

President Eisenhower has said, "The conservation and use which we make of the water resources of our nation may in large measure determine our future progress and the standards of living of our citizens." That is a job not only for government, but for private enterprise and private citizens.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mert Sage, Maple Farm, Cambridge, Vermont: I remember when it was possible to get a doctor within hours after you called him. Every town had one old "Doc" and most of them had a young one breaking in, who was always ready to "strike out."

Many's the time I've seen old Doc's horse turn into our yard with Doc bundled up sound asleep in his sleigh. Dad would go out and wake him up to invite him in for coffee and, if he wanted, Dad would water his horse and tend to him while Doc got the "lowdown" on our family.

Then, off he'd go to answer his next call, refreshed and rested, like as not sound asleep when he got there. He never neglected his patients and if you had gout, he called it gout. I really enjoyed the assorted candy and peppermint sticks he carried and always had a bag of apples for him.

It wasn't until years afterward I learned that some more needy family than ours got all the gifts I gave him for, being a shrewd old gent, he gave his gifts in the far corners of town, rather than to someone in the neighborhood.

From Mrs. Clayton Flanagan, Woodlawn, Virginia: Can you remember when people cooked in open fireplaces . . . roasted potatoes in the hot ashes . . . and set a black iron pot of stew over the flames?

As we drive or walk, our State Police warn us not to let daydreaming over the beautiful fall scenery distract our attention from our driving or walking. One moment of inattention can be deadly on the highway. Let's make certain that we are always alert on the streets and highways.

THE LOW DOWN
FROM HICKORY GROVE

Today I direct my attention to the alerting and getting off the dime of the grandest group of folks in this land — also the largest — sometime the biggest sucker — the great and numerous middle class, you, yourself and your neighbor, most likely.

Here is what this big group should do, but don't. It does not delve into how deep are the waters of politics or what is cooking under a more or less calm surface. A carpenter in Cincinnati, a farmer in Kansas, a hardware dealer in St. Paul are each so busy with his local problems that he figures something cooking, politically, in far away Seattle is not his baby or worry.

Socialism, if it can take root, grow big, grow sassy in the very technical kilowatt business in far-away places like Seattle, in places in New York, in places in the South, it can just as easy or easier, in due course, pick up your carpenter's hammer, barge into hardware, boss the plow-man right here in Kansas or St Paul or where.

Now folks, busy as you are and nice as you are, you are the guilty culprit. You don't write your Senator, you don't get agitated. It is not your baby, you say. 'Tis your baby, I say.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

SCANNING THE NEWS

THE battle for control of the House and Senate in the 84th Congress is developing into a political slugfest with both sides claiming victory and with both parties running scared.

As a result of the recent primaries and the Maine election the Democrats were given a shot in the arm and surface indications as well as historical tradition at this writing give them the edge at least in the House. The Maine election set the Republicans back on their heels and while they attempt to explain it away by declaring the victory for the Democrats in the governorship race was due to local issues, such explaining will not hold true with regard to the sharply increased vote for Democrats in the Senatorial and Congressional races. Democrats gained a 40% vote in the Senatorial race and Congressman Robert Hale, with a name as old as Maine, barely squeezed through.

Generally speaking, the control of the House of Representatives may be decided in fifty congressional districts where the winners in the last election showed slightly more than 50% of the vote. Local issues, however will play a part in some districts. For instance, in Republican San Diego California district, Admiral Ross McIntyre, former president Roosevelt's physician, is running on the Democratic ticket. San Diego is largely an all-Navy town and the Navy is backing Admiral McIntyre.

In the Senate, as a result of some deaths, 37 seats are at stake, 15 Republican and 22 Democrats. However, 14 of the Democratic seats are from southern or other rated safe districts, leaving 8 contests. These are Anderson, in New Mexico, opposed by GOP Governor Edwin Mechem; Burke, in Ohio, opposed by Republican Congressman George Bender; Frear in Delaware, opposed by GOP Herbert Warburton; Gillette, in Iowa, opposed by Republican Congressman Tom Martin; Humphrey, in Minnesota, opposed by Republican Val Bjornson; Former Democratic Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney is opposed by GOP William Henry Harrison in Wyoming; Former Democratic Congressman John Carroll is opposed by Republican Lt. Gov. Gordon Allott in Colorado; and Senator Murray is opposed by Republican Congressman Wesley A. D'Ewart in Montana.

On the Republican side seven of the 15 GOP seats are relatively safe leaving eight in doubt. Senator Cooper, of Kentucky, is opposed by former Vice President Alben Barkley; Senator Dworshak of Idaho is opposed by former Senator Glen Taylor, Democrat; Senator Ferguson, of Michigan is opposed by Democratic Patrick McNamara; Former Congressman Case is opposed by Congressman Charles Howell, Democrat in New Jersey; Senator Kuchel of California is opposed by Democratic Congressman Sam Yorty; Senator Salstonstall, Massachusetts, is opposed by Democrat former Congressman Foster Furcolo, and in Oregon Sen. Guy Cordon is opposed by Democrat Richard Newberger with public power a red hot issue.

DALE CARNEGIE
AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

B. E. MAC DONALD, 103 Duncan Street, Halifax, Nova Scotia, wants to share with you one of the ingredients he has found vital for his recipe for success. He has sent it to me to pass along to you.

He says: "It takes me approximately five minutes to drive from my home to work—twenty minutes per day for two round trips.

"Twenty minutes a day adds up to ten hours a month or one hundred and twenty hours a year; in effect fifteen full eight-hour days per year.

"It is virtually impossible for me to make you know all the beneficial results I have gained by having fifteen days a year in which to relax and find succour from fear and worry. But I'll do my best, so here is what I do with those individual five minutes.

CARNEGIE

"When I start out on my drive I at once relax my muscles completely thereby avoiding tenseness.

"Next I chase business or personal worries and cares from my mind.

"Then I practice deep full breathing, and, to put myself in a happier frame of mind, I sing.

"The result has been that at the end of my drive I am relaxed, amiable and better able to meet situations calmly. I am more tolerant toward people, an effect which carries over well into the mornings and afternoons.

"I hope you try it for I believe you too can find those few minutes a day, which multiply into hours and days, and which if used to good advantage can act like a tonic and make for better mental and physical well-being."

WORTH REPEATING

"Stockholders furnish the capital which keeps American industry alive and growing. They are the owners of the nation's largest companies. They elect the boards of directors. Company presidents are stockholders' employees." — New Bedford (Mass.) Standard-Times.

"For many years the idea of a "planned economy" has been advocated in this country. The term is superficially appealing. It creates imaginary vistas of an economy in which everything is scientific and ordered, depressions and even mild recessions are outlawed, and everyone prospers. But theory is one thing—while practice is often different." — South Boston (Mass.) Gazette.

"Competition for many years was unfamiliar to many phases of business because of the war boom, the post-war boom and the foreign aid boom. There was enough business to go around and nearly everybody had a crack at it. Now it's tougher and people are no longer throwing orders over the transoms. Competition is tougher, too, as others go out after business."—Woonsocket (R. I.) Call.

"It would be a great blessing to humanity and to civilization if governments were under the same compulsion to cut costs as is private enterprise. No matter how large a private business becomes, it is faced with oblivion the moment management becomes lax and inefficient. There is no legislative body to cover losses at the expense of helpless taxpayers. The result is that inefficient management is speedily replaced." — New Haven (Conn.) Journal-Courier.

"In any government-operated commercial business, purely political considerations inevitably influence policy—and the bigger the government business concerned, the more politics is apt to enter into the operations. That in itself makes for waste and inefficiency, no matter how able the engineers and other technical personnel may be." — New Haven (Conn.) Journal-Courier.

my PET PEEVE
by Mike Bennett

IN MY dubious opinion, more than half the world's population is so busy minding the other fellow's business and looking for a chance to pass out some "free advice" that we aren't getting much done in the way of world progress.

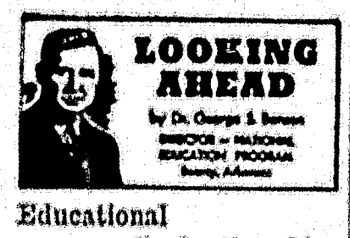
Which opinion often brings to my mind memories of a citizen I once knew in a rather small town. Sam had a reserved seat on the porch of the local general store, where he sat all day long, chewing tobacco, killing flies, and whittling on the ends of apple boxes. He was a genuine expert at pointing out the mistakes being made daily by the President, the manager of the local semi-pro baseball team, the mayor and everybody else in town.

The town should have appreciated Sam. Had he been the type to make hasty recommendations and suggest "how" to do a job from the start, think how miserable he could have made the citizenry by sitting around all day saying, "I told you so" every time something wasn't done the way he suggested—and turned out to be done wrong.

Now-a-days, one can get "free advice" real easy. Start out to build a house, put up a fence, plant a garden, or raise a family and you'll find a host of strangers popping up to tell you how to go about it, "for free"—they always say.

Take advantage of some of this "free advice" tho, and sooner or later you'll find out why it came so cheap. That's where Sam was different—no ulterior motives and never once in his life was he known to give away free advice. Constructive criticism was his forte and he stuck to it until he ran out of apple boxes and chewing tobacco.

Say you saw it in The CITIZEN.



Educational Soul - Searching

Many schools throughout America have begun to place in proper perspective the responsibility they owe to the preservation of our great nation and the political and economic structure which has made it great. An encouraging report on such action has just come to my desk. It is worthy of passing along to parents and teachers everywhere. It is from Hammond, Indiana. When the 685 school teachers in Hammond gathered on September 7 in a convocation opening the new school year, Superintendent Lee L. Caldwell announced as the theme for the year: Human Freedom the True End of Education in Our Century.

"At no time in the history of the world," Superintendent Caldwell said, was there ever a crisis as far-reaching and destructive as the current struggle between communism and freedom. The current crisis includes more people; it comprehends more vital issues; it will determine whether the people of the world are to be free or slaves.

Stake Is Freedom

"The place of the United States among the peoples of the world makes it imperative for American education to take a long, careful look ahead. Let it be repeated, again and again, that the education and training of their generation of children and youth now in our school could determine the outcome for the freedom of mankind. The big question is: Can American schools educate and train a generation of men and women who will keep the United States the strongest nation in the world in resources and character?

"Can there be any doubt that freedom is the supreme issue of education, and of our increased responsibility to teach and train for strong character and well-informed, trustworthy citizenship?" Superintendent Caldwell pointed out "some things we can do better than we have been doing them." And I should like to commend these Hammond school goals to the attention to the entire profession of education:

The Goals

"1. A better understanding and appreciation of the meaning of human freedom. We need to consider: (a) what is freedom — for me, for you, for others? (b) What is its source. Is it God-given or only a concept of the human mind? (c) How may it be expressed in human action for human welfare? (d) How may it be best established by institutions of law and order?"

To answer these questions, Superintendent told the teachers of Hammond's 18,000 youngsters "we must begin with certain basic assumptions, which have been established in the higher reaches of the human mind, namely: (a) Man is more than a biological species; more than a physical being. (b) He is a being of creative mind and spirit, separate and distinct from all animal species in mind and spirit. (c) All of history reveals that he desires to be free to live his life without bondage—free to follow his own way of life and culture. (d) All human progress was and is motivated by man's desire for freedom. (e) The Hebraic and Christian concepts of man have developed the highest concepts of human freedom.

"My Native Land"

"2. More complete knowledge and better understanding of other people, and appreciation of their needs, cultures and situations (is need). This means broadening our knowledge of geography, history, cultures and world economic situations.

"3. Faith in our country and way of life, and appreciation of our American heritage.

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
"Who never to himself hath said:
"'This is my own, my native land!'"

"4. Discipline—for self-realization and self-expression.

"5. Moral and spiritual growth."

Hammond, Indiana, with these splendid objectives being held up as a pattern of education for its children, will be strengthening America, its priceless resources, and our heritage of freedom.

Thursday, October 14

Read Acts 27:33-44.

In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. (I Thessalonians 5:18).

AFTER seven days of continuous rain, the sun appeared, radiating light and warmth. I hurried to hang out a large bunch of wet clothes in that sunshine. My neighbors did the same. Soon all the yards were full of clothes hung out to dry.

Then I began to meditate on the great things in the universe for the good of humanity: the sunshine, the air, the trees which produce tasty fruit, and many other things too numerous to name.

God gives us our blessings. Besides, He sent us a more wonderful blessing—His only begotten Son to die on the cross for our sins. Also, God sents the Holy Spirit to guide us in this world. He gives us peace of mind that we may not fear the morrow; joy in living, even in the midst of tribulations.

Life is all the richer for us if we give thanks, without ceasing, to our Creator, Redeemer, Father, and Comforter for all mercies.

Prayer

Lord God, our Father, we praise Thee and thank Thee for the manifestations of Thy love, for material food for our bodies and spiritual food for our souls. We ask Thy pardon for our failure to recognize Thy loving care in the daily blessings we receive. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Thought For The Day

It is the will of God that we be thankful. —Arabela P. Schutz (Brazil)

"Letting the market set the measure for production, rather than produce for a surplus and for waste, is still the best business method"—Dover (N. H.) Foster's Democrat.

One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.—(Ephesians 4, 6.)

Whatever be our individual concept of God, the Bible's statement that He is within each one of us when we, through cleansing ourselves of sin, open the doors of our souls, is a blessed assurance. In the knowledge of His presence within us is peace, and strength.

MAINE HEART ASSOCIATION PROVIDES LOAN FUND FOR CARDIAC SURGERY EXPENSE

Dr Elton R Blaisdell, President of the Maine Heart Association announced today that the Executive Committee has approved a Cardiac Surgery Loan Fund of $3,750.00.

The purpose of this Fund is to allow patients of the middle income bracket to borrow money to pay a portion of their hospital expenses. Dr Blaisdell announced that no loan shall be for an amount over $500.00. This loan shall be interest free and payable to the Heart Association, at the convenience of the patient or the patient's immediate family after they have resumed a normal status of living.

Dr Blaisdell also announced the appointment of a Cardiac Loan Fund Committee consisting of Dr Emerson Drake, Dr Eugene Drake and Mrs Doris Peabody Lyons. This Committee shall have full authority to screen applications presented by the Executive Director and decide the amount and type of the loan. He also stated that this Loan Fund was an experiment in Maine and it was hoped that it would be a revolving Fund increasing as the need arises. The purpose of this Fund is to allow persons of middle class income to maintain their personal dignity and integrity by paying their obligations when due without that worry which would naturally have an emotional effect upon the patient. Dr Blaisdell stated that at the present time, some types of surgery were so expensive that they caused great financial burdens upon the patients and their immediate families. In some cases, people who need this type surgery are not receiving it because they do not wish to be included in that group who receive aid from the state and prefer to live with a disabled heart in preference to seeking State or Municipal assistance. In receiving a loan from the Maine Heart Association, a patient or the immediate family of the patient will not be pressed for immediate payment of the loan or asked to furnish any collateral for security.

POTATOES NOT TOO HIGH IN CALORIES, STUDIES SHOW

Maine potatoes are not as high in calories as many people think. Extension Service nutritionists say that dieters shouldn't be too hasty in taking potatoes off their list of foods. It's mostly what you put on them that increases calorie count. For instance, one small plain potato contains only about 85 calories. A slice of bread or an egg has nearly as many. And potatoes contain iron, phosphorus, vitamin B, riboflavin, and a good supply of vitamin C—all badly needed nutrients.

NEARLY 88 PER CENT OF MAINE FARMS ELECTRIFIED

Nearly 88 per cent of Maine farms had electric service as of June 30. For the nation as a whole, 92.3 per cent of the farms had electric service. The June 30 figure was an increase in the number of Maine farms unelectrified over a year earlier, because of a special attempt to pinpoint these farms in this year's survey. Some 26,651 of 30,358 Maine farms had electricity.

UNIVERSALIST WOMEN OF MAINE ELECT OFFICERS

At Bangor, Sept. 29, the following women were elected to State office by the Association of Universalist Women of Maine: President, Mrs John Bunney, Auburn; Vice President, Mrs Judson Spofford, Norway; Secretary, Mrs William L Wish, Portland; Treasurer, Mrs Elsie F Mosher, Bangor.

Department Chairmen: Diabetic Camps, Miss Rachel M Beals, Auburn; Out reach, Mrs Frank Vickerson, Portland; Program, Mrs Milton McGorrill, Orono; Publicity, Miss Gladys Wright, Casco, co-chairman, Mrs George H Hood, Rockland.

COUNTY ASC ELECTION NOW IN PROGRESS

The County Office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture announces that balloting for the ASC farmer-committeemen is now underway in Oxford County. Balloting will be by mail and farmers who are participating in the current Agricultural Conservation Program are eligible to vote. In order to be counted, the envelope containing the ballot must either be received at the County Office or postmarked by five p. m. on October 20.

Eligible farmers have been sent ballots on which the names of 7 or 10 nominees have been written. The nominations in each of the 9 ASC communities of the county were made by a community election board set by a county election board. Five of the nominees will be elected to serve as Chairman, Vice-chairman, regular member, first alternate and second alternate, respectively, of the community committee. The committeemen will take office on November 1 and will serve until their successors are elected in the fall of 1955.

The Chairman and Vice-chairman will be delegates and alternate delegates, respectively, to the County Convention to be held October 28 at 1:30 p. m. in the County ASC office to elect the three County Committeeman and two alternates to serve in 1955. The County Committeemen will also take office on November 1.

GIRL SCOUTS

Patrol 4 held their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of their leader, Mrs George Parsons. Twelve girls and two leaders were present.

After a short business meeting Jean Waterhouse passed her Farm Safety and Home Gardener Badges. Delores Lane also passed part of her Tenderfoot requirements.

Mrs James Brown then helped us with our project of aluminum trays. This type of work is new to most of us and is proving to be a lot of fun. We hope to finish them next week.

Several people have asked us if we are still collecting papers and magazines to sell. We certainly are, and would be glad to pick yours up if you'll call one of us. We use the money we get from this paper to pay our registration dues, buy material to work with, and just to have fun with!

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends for cards and flowers they sent me during my illness also their acts of kindness in many ways.

GOULD ACADEMY

LYNDON HERE FOR PARENTS DAY GAME

Saturday is Parents' Day at Gould Academy and the big event of the program will be the Lyndon-Gould football game scheduled for 2 p. m. The Vermonters have been keen competition for the Huskies in past years and this year they will be starting a team composed of many veterans. Up until last year Gould had won 2, Lyndon had won two and two games were ties. Neither team had won by more than one touchdown until Lyndon broke the tie with an 18-6 victory on their own field last fall.

The Huskies have come through with 27-0 victories over South Paris and Norway in their two previous games. The twin towns are both, however, below par and Gould is expecting something different on Saturday. The nod goes to the visitors on this one.

At a special meeting of the Student Council held last Friday, Mary Anne Bowles of Plymouth, N. H., and Donna Bartlett of Bethel were elected as majorettes for the band.

The first issue of the Blue and Gold, school newspaper, will be distributed on October 15.

The students and faculty of the Academy were privileged to see an excellent color film on the development of Mt. Washington TV on Tuesday, October 12. The film was an excellent documentary presentation of the difficulties encountered in the erection of the station on top of the mountain and of the New England area served by this transmitter.

GOULD LOSES CLOSE MEET TO FRYEBURG

Fryeburg Academy, State Preparatory Champions in 1953, barely pased out Gould Academy in a Cross County Meet held in Bethel on Thursday by a score of 27-28. Rafield Payne, Maine Preparatory Individual Champion and Maine Class M State Meet Record Holder at the one mile distance, established a new record for the local course of 12 minutes and 3 seconds for the 2.6 mile route. John Chase of the Huskies was only 2 seconds off the previous course mark held by Clyde Kerr of last years Rumford squad at 13:02.2. Chase was second in 13:04.2. Robert Eastman of the visitors beat out Fred Fanning of Gould for a tight battle for fourth place for what proved to be the critical point.

Summary: Fryeburg (27)—Rayfield Payne 1, Ronald Palmer 3, Robert Eastman 4, Charles Reed 9, Steve True 10. Gould (28)—John Chase 2, Fred Fanning 5, Bill Coolidge 6, Bob Edney 7, Frank Benson 8.

Others: Tom Saunders (F) 11, Gerald Burnell (F) 12, Bradley Benson (G) 13, Carroll Payne (F) 14, Gordon Hill (G) 15, Steve Fisher (G), Robert Payne (F), 17, Dan McAllister (F) 18, Guy Whitten (G) 19.

GOULD DEFEATS NORWAY

Gould won its second victory of the season last Saturday by defeating Norway High School by a score of 27-0 in a game played on the Oxford County Fair Grounds. Gould co-captain, Ed Burnham, tallied three touchdowns in the game beginning with a 55-yard run from scrimmage on the first play. Burnham got another tally in the first period after the Huskies recovered a Norway fumble on the Norway five yard line. Scoreless in the second quarter Gould pulled a flashy triple reverse play with a long forward pass on the end of it. Rowe throwing to Verne Corkum for a 40 yard touchdown play in the third quarter. Burnham climaxed a 50 yard sustained drive by crashing over the final score in the fourth quarter. The Norway resistance was spearheaded by John Ashton who played another good game ably supported by Dick Twitchell and Bruce Morse in the line.

SPORTS FLASHES from The Sporting News

by J. G. Taylor Spink

Mays, Antonelli, Lemon, Avila Honored by The Sporting News

Willie Mays and Johnny Antonelli, who transformed the Giants from a fifth-place club into world's championship team, were named the National League's No. 1 Player of the Year and No. 1 Pitcher of the Year, respectively by The Sporting News. Similar honors in the American League went to Second Baseman Bobby Avila and Pitcher Bob Lemon of the pennant-winning Indians.

A poll of managers, players, umpires and correspondents for the national baseball weekly gave an overwhelming endorsement to Mays, Antonelli and Lemon. The choice of Avila was closely contested, with Yogi Berra of the Yankees and Lary Doby of the Indians among the competitors for the selection.

In 1953, when the Giants finished 35 games behind the Dodgers, Mays was in the Army and Antonelli was only a .500 pitcher, with an 11-11 record, for the Braves. The southpaw came to the Polo Grounders in the deal for Bobby Thomson. Mays returned from military service and, together, the pair provided the vital spark for the Giants' championship success.

Mays not only performed sensationally on defense in center field, but he also led the National League in hitting with .345, rapped 41 homers and drove in 110 runs. Antonelli won 21 games against only seven losses and paced the loop's regular starters in earned run average with a mark of 2.30.

Lemon topped the American League's hurlers with a record of 23-7, marking the sixth time in the past seven seasons that the righthanders had reached the 20-victory total. His ERA was 2.72. Avila won the batting crown with .341 and set an all-time personal high in homers with 15. Thirteen of his round-trippers came in the clutch to tie or win games.

The poll results gave Mays 108 votes as the N. L.'s No. 1 Player to 23 for Ted Kluszewski, the Reds' slugging first baseman, who was the runner-up. Others named in the balloting included Antonelli, eight votes; Al Dark of the Giants and Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers, six each; Duke Snider of the Dodgers and Stan Musial of the Cardinals, five apiece, and Del Crandall, Braves, one.

Antonelli drew 142 votes for No. 1 Pitcher, with 11 going to Robin Roberts of the Phillies and one each to Warren Spahn of the Braves, Harvey Haddix of the Cardinals and Sal Maglie and Mary Grissom of the Giants.

The A. L. tabulation for No. 1 Pitcher gave 144 vote to Lemon against nine for his teammate, Early Wynn; three for Virgil Trucks of the White Sox; two for Bob Grim of the Yankees and one for Mike Garcia, the other member of the Indians' Big Three.

Avila was named on 49 ballots as the No. 1 Player, giving him a slight edge over Doby, who drew 36 votes, and Berra, who collected 29. Lemon was next with 23 votes, while Minnie Minoso of the White Sox and Al Rosen of the Indians followed in a tie with ten each. Ted Williams of the Red Sox, Al Smith of the Indians and Garcia had one apiece.

In addition to first-place nominations, participants in the poll also made selections for second and third-place ratings. Those who were mentioned included:

N. L. Player — Joe Adcock, Johnny Logan and Eddie Mathews, Braves; Gil Hodges, Dodgers; Dusty Rhodes and Don Mueller, Giants; Wally Moon and Red Schoendienst, Cardinals, and Robberts.

A. L. Player — Irv Noren, Mickey Mantle, Andy Carey, Whitey Ford, and Grim, Yankees; Harvey Kuenn, Tigers; Vic Wertz, Jim Hegan, and Wynn, Indians; Jackie Jensen, Red Sox, and Mickey Vernon, Senators.

A. L. Pitcher — Eddie Lopat and Ford, Yankees; Sandy Consuegra and Jack Harshman, White Sox; Ned Garver and Steve Gromek, Tigers; Bob Turley and Joe Coleman, Orioles; and Bob Porterfield, Senators.

N. L. Pitcher—Hoyt Wilhelm and Ruben Gomez, Giants; Jim Hughes, Carl Erskine and Billy Loes, Dodgers; Dave Jolly and Gene Conley, Braves; Brooks Lawrence, Cardinals; Dick Littlefield, Pirates, and Joe Nuxhall, Reds.

The annual selections of the No. 1 Player and Pitcher by The Sporting News are not to be confused with the most valuable player awards to be announced later by the Baseball Writers' Association of America. The BBWAA names only one most valuable performer in each major league. The Sporting News for a number of years has followed a policy of selecting an outstanding player and an outstanding pitcher in each circuit, believing this represents a more accurate basis of comparison than attempting to judge the value of a regular day-by-day player against a pitcher.

ENROLLMENT CAMPAIGN OF BLUE CROSS-SHIELD COMING

It was announced today by Walter P. Black, enrollment director of the Associated Hospital Service of Maine, that the annual Oxford County community enrollment will be held beginning Monday, October 18, and continuing through Saturday, October 23.

Residents of this area who are interested in joining Blue Cross, or Blue Cross and Blue Shield, or adding Blue Shield to their present contract, need only secure forms at one of the following locations: Norway National Bank; Central Oxford County Hospital, Norway; Rumford Community Hospital, Rumford; Casco Bank and Trust Co., in South Paris, Buckfield, Fryeburg, Rumford, Bethel; Rumford Bank and Trust Co., Canton, Dixfield, and the new Blue Cross-Blue Shield Mobile truck. If you are joining for the first time, a monthly or quarterly payment must accompany your application. If you are adding Blue Shield no money is necessary when you apply.

James McCorkle, enrollment representative of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield, will be in the enrolling area during the week. Dana Dow, enrollment representative, will be in all areas with the new mobile enrollment truck.

January 1, 1954 started the 16th year of this non-profit hospital and surgical service and the Blue Cross Plan now has a membership of greater than 300,000. Although less than three years old, the companion plan, the Blue Shield surgical-medical plan, has a membership of over 93,000.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express to our kind neighbors and thoughtful friends our heartfelt thanks for their many expressions of sympathy. The beautiful floral tributes were especially appreciated.

LOCKE MILLS

—— Mrs. Mary Mills, Corres. ——

Correction: It was erroneously printed in the Locke Mills news last week that Stanton and Willard Cole had purchased the home of Mrs Ida Howe on Main Street. It should have been printed that Stanton and Willard Cole have purchased the Ernest Cole place on Howe Hill, and Malcolm Packard has purchased the Mrs Ida Howe home on Main Street.

Friends of Wilbur Swan, formerly of Locke Mills, are happy to hear that he is making good recovery following a serious operation at the Rumford Hospital, and is with his daughter, Mrs Rupert Aldrich, at Norway.

Mr and Mrs Carlton Lapham and Mr and Mrs Everett Cross recently visited with Harry Campbell and Miss Winifred Campbell at Arlington Heights, Mass.

Mr and Mrs William Seamen who sold their farm on Howe Hill some time ago moved over the week end to the Roy Morgan home at Greenwood Center.

It is reported that Arthur Coolidge is gaining at the Veterans Hospital.

Harold Nutting has purchased a lot from Ekco-Tebbets Inc. on School Street opposite the Lee Mills residence and is clearing it.

Mr and Mrs William Porter and son, Lane, of Arlington, Mass., were at their camp on Round Pond over the week end.

Katheryn Leonora Dunham celebrated her sixth birthday by having a party at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs Leland Dunham on Saturday afternoon. Attending her party were Cheryl Cummings, Thalia Batchelder, Franz Martin, Neva, Annie and Dickie Cross, Stuart and Penny Twitchell, Eileen Dunham, Sharon Packard, Eugene and Ruth Tebbets, Jeffrey and Jimmy Johnson, Glendon Kimball, and Patti Dunham. Games were played and Eileen Dunham won the prize in one of the games played. Refreshments including a birthday cake were served. Kathy received many nice gifts and those who sent gifts were Bobby Parker, Bonita Packard, Wayne Howe, and her two grandmothers, Mrs Mary O'Jea and Mrs Rowena Dunham.

Mrs Kenneth Swan (nee Nellie Lapham) of South Paris was given a stork shower last Wednesday evening by Mrs Claire Smith of Bryant Pond at the home of Mr and Mrs Carlton Lapham. The room was prettily decorated in light green, yellow and white, and with flowers given by Mrs Louise Twitchell. Refreshments of cake, ice cream, punch and a shower cake made by Edna Young were served by Charlene Rice and Neva and Annie Cross, cousins of Mrs Swan. Attending the shower were Verna Swan, Claire Smith, Millicent Pendleton, Edith and Charlene Rice, Mary and Judith Andrews, Carol Jordan and Sherwood, Iola Marshall, Margery Swan, Louise Twitchell, Mabel Dunham, Cora Bennett, Ann Swan, Lois Day, Beverly Melville, Sylvia Dunham, Rowena Dunham, Susie Kimball, Ella Cole, Vera Cross, Sylvia, Annie and Neva Cross, Maude Lapham, Lillian Lapham and Ruth Ring. Those sending gifts were Mary Lapham, Esther Brown, Grace Hulbert, Barbara Hulbert, Lillian Young, Lelia Swan, Nesta Gordon, Edith and Clara Whitman, Elouise Howe, Rena Howe, Arlene MacKillop, Winifred Campbell, Marlene Marshall, Helen Cummings, Elsie Bennett, Mary Mills, Mae Dunham, Ruby Mason and Ida Lurvey.

The Community Club met at the town hall on Tuesday evening with a pot luck supper at six-thirty. There were approximately forty present including guests from the Greenwood Community Club. It was decided to hold the next meeting on Wednesday evening, Nov. 10, at the town hall. At the meeting the lucky ticket on the quilt was drawn, and Mrs Lewis Cole Jr. of Rumford will receive it. Donations on the quilt amounted to $17.15. After the meeting, Mr and Mrs Nestor Tamminen displayed their mineral collection and gave the history of each mineral. They have a very fine collection, and all who saw it were much enthused. The committee in charge of the supper was Mary Andrews, Sylvia Dunham, and Rowena Dunham. Dora Ford assisted the committee.

Mr and Mrs Jason Bennett, Mr and Mrs Mrs Donald Bennett, Dean and Jimmy Bennett, Mr and Mrs Walter Newell and son, Charles, Mr and Mrs Eldon Hathaway and Michael, Susan and Linda Hathaway and Lana Farrington enjoyed a lobster party at Bennett's Lodge in Greenwood Saturday evening.

—— Mary C. Stanley, Corres. ——

Mr and Mrs Willis Ward had as guests Sunday Mr and Mrs Bud Howe and small son of Portland and Mr and Mrs Clarence Ward of North Sebago.

Mr and Mrs James Worth of Island Pond, Vt., called on her cousin, Mrs H S Stanley, Thursday.

Mrs Alma LaFayette of Portland spent the week end with her sister and husband, Mr and Mrs Leslie Davis.

Miss Frances A Carter and Miss Emily Day of Newton, Mass., were in town from Friday to Monday closing the Brick End House for the winter.

Can United States, as Leader of Free World, Let Communist Expansion Upset Our Applecart?

By WALTER SHEAD
Washington Correspondent
National Weekly Newspaper Service
(This is the third in a series of articles on the crisis in Indochina.)

IN CONSIDERING the importance of Indochina to the United States, two premises must be assumed. The first is that whether we like it or not, this country is today looked to for world leadership. The second is that we have vital stakes in the Far East for which we have spent billions of dollars and sacrificed thousands of American lives . . . these stakes are the Philippines, Japan and Korea. We are morally obligated and committed by treaty to preserve their freedom.

Therefore the question arises can we as the leader of the free world allow our position to be eroded, piece by piece, by the expansion of either Russian or Chinese Communist control further into Asia.

Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, puts it more dramatically, "Dare we permit" this further expansion, he asks. Our principal allies, Britain and France have even more of a stake. Burma, Malaya, the crown colonies, Singapore and Hong Kong are the remnants of a once vast colonial British empire in Asia. Britain also has the Commonwealths of Australia and New Zealand in the Southwest Pacific with which the United States has a mutual defense pact.

While France is giving up its colonial rule in Indochina, her huge investments made there during some 90 years are perhaps safe from expropriation.

Indochina is a rich, almost untapped nation as to natural resources. Indochina is the "rice bowl" of the orient and the rice crop covers approximately 3 out of 4 acres cultivated.

Should this rich source of food and natural resources disappear behind the iron curtain, the economy and the peoples of Japan, the Philippines and Korea would suffer.

From a strategic standpoint, Indochina lies across the most direct route, both sea and air, between the Pacific and south Asia. There is an almost unanimity of opinion among those best qualified to judge in our state department that (1) Red China will seek to overrun all of Indochina, and, (2) if Indochina falls, then Thailand, Burma, the Malay peninsula and the Republic of Indonesia will be next in line of erosion. This would mean 145.4 million more people swallowed behind the iron curtain . . . Indochina, 29 million; Thailand, 18.3 million; Republic of Indonesia, 78 million; Burma, 17 million; Malay states, 2.1 million and Singapore 1 million. Hong Kong with its more than 2,000,000 likely would go.

But despite the tremendous world stakes on the block in Indochina, there is still some foot-dragging as between Britain, France and the United States in getting together on any acceptable agreement for united action. Thailand, thus far is the only Asian nation which has indicated its willingness to join a collective security pact. India is cool and remains neutral. Indonesian sympathies appear headed towards communism. Burma and Malaya will follow the British lead. Australia and New Zeland may go along. So will the Philippines.

But there the united policy espoused by Secretary Dulles and this administration appears to be stymied by the "co-existence" propaganda so appealingly put forth by Moscow, and virtually accepted in lieu of "united action" by Great Britain and France.

The results of the Geneva conference boil down to the fact that the western world failed in its objective to eliminate the partition of Korea, and agreed to partition of Indochina . . . were not willing to take the calculated risk of Moscow co-existence line . . . and the Moscow bluff worked.

As this writer sees the picture in the Far East now, the stalemate in Korea will remain unless the USA is willing to reopen the war there on its own, and despite Gen. Van Fleet's recommendation that we do just that, we will NOT do so unless Red China's violations of the truce become so flagrant we can no longer remain passive and keep our self-respect in the eyes of the world and particularly in the eyes of Asians.

Certainly our prospects for peace have not been bettered, either by the truce in Korea or in Indochina. Secretary Dulles has been in favor of a strong policy. He has not been upheld either by our principal allies, nor by influential leaders in his own party at home. He has been forced to accept a policy of appeasement which may cost this country dearly. Mr. Dulles knows as do many here in Washington, that all is not well behind the iron curtain, that the western world has appeased when Communist Russia and China may be at their weakest point both by over-extension and by internal revolt. He admits his plan of united action or massive retaliation might involve serious risks.

"But these risks," he says, "are far less than those which will face us a few years from now, if we dare not be resolute today . . . sometimes it is necessary to take risks to win peace just as it is necessary to take risks to win a victory. The chances for peace are usually bettered by letting a potential aggressor know in advance where his aggression could lead him."

Editor's note—the next article will deal with the individual stake of every American in the Indochinese war and the situation in the Far East.

DIED

In Bethel, Oct. 10, Mrs Marion Tyler, aged 81 years.

MRS. MARION B. TYLER

A Tribute:

Another kind, generous friend and neighbor has become a memory.

Death came early Sunday morning, Oct. 10th, to Marion Bennett Tyler after several years of semi-invalidism.

In 1906 she and Maurice F Tyler of Mason were united in marriage making their home with her parents, Mr and Mrs Freeland Bennett on Grover Hill. Theirs was a happy marriage with mutual devotion and responsibility.

The word "motherly" best describes Mrs Tyler. From early girlhood she solicitiously cared for older people; an aged grandmother, her parents, her husband's mother and stepfather, all were ministered to tenderly. In addition, her home was always a haven to relatives who were certain of a glad welcome.

After her husband's death more than a decade ago, Mrs Tyler moved to Main Street where she made her home with her sister and brother-in-law, the late Mr and Mrs E C Barnard.

She was a familiar figure to many, seated in her arm chair by the window, smilingly ready to greet each caller with cordial hospitality. One found her eyesight, her memory, and her sense of humor, keen and sparkling.

Despite the handicap of hands painfully crippled by arthritis, she managed to crochet lovely lace tablecloths, doilies and dolls' clothing which she gave either to relatives and friends or donated to worthy causes.

Her love for little children, animals, and flowers; her sincere appreciation for the smallest favor or gift; her quick response of sympathy to those in sorrow were some of her outstanding qualities which will leave a lasting impression on many people.

MECs HOLD MEETING

The M. E. Cs held a pot luck supper at the home of Blanche Bennett, Monday night. The new president, Elsie Poore, presided over the business meeting. Cora Bennett resigned as secretary because she is leaving town for the winter and Beatrice Brown was nominated to take her place.

An invitation was read to attend the Legion Auxiliary meeting on Tuesday night and hear the girls who attended Dirigo Girls State last June give their report. The M. E. Cs had contributed toward sending the girls.

The next meeting will be held at the I. O. O. F. hall Nov. 8.

Tom Brown was in Ashland a few days last week.

Miss Cleo Russell is the guest of Mrs Fred Culver at South Royalton, Vt.

The happiness of your life depends upon the quality of your thoughts, therefore guard accordingly. —Marcus Antoninus

FORMER UPTON MINISTER RESCUES WOMEN IN FORKS, WASHINGTON, FIRE

The many friends of Rev and Mrs Norman Scruton, who served the Umbagog Larger Parish from 1940 to 1946, will be interested in this account which appeared in a Sept. 24 Port Angeles, Wash., newspaper. It was also noted that Mrs Scruton assisted in setting up relief headquarters after the explosion.

A Forks minister was named as a hero of the blast and fire which destroyed the Olympic apartment building in Forks Friday, by the most seriously injured victim.

Mrs Alice Coyle told the Associated Press from her hospital bed in Seattle that the Rev Norman Scruton, pastor of the Forks First Congregational Church, was responsible for saving her life.

She said she was trapped between a counter and oil stove, with her clothing aflame, when the minister dashed into the burning building.

"The next thing I knew Rev Scruton was at my side," said Mrs Coyle. "He beat out the flames in my clothes and dragged me outside. He was wonderful. I couldn't have gotten out alone. Then he went back in and got two other women. He took us all to the hospital."

Mrs Coyle said she had just returned from the grocery store and found the liquid fuel tank "making a terrible noise." She ran out to tell the apartment house owner, and had just stepped back into the kitchen when the explosion hit.

W. S. C. S. TO HOLD HARVEST SUPPER OCTOBER 25

The WSCS met last Thursday afternoon at the Methodist Church, with 21 members and three visitors present. Mrs Sherman Greenleaf had charge of devotions, Mrs Alton Luxton and Mrs Robert Kenlston volunteer to help with the robes of the junior choir. The activity committee has made plans for a harvest supper Oct. 25 at the church, and Mrs Abbie Brown was appointed general chairman. The fall meeting of the Maine Conference of the WSCS will be held at Peoples' Church, South Portland, Nov. 3 and 4. It was voted to hold the annual sale on Nov. 18. Members having wool scraps suitable for hooked rugs are asked to leave them with Mrs Elsie Davis for the annual sale. The president announced that Sunday evening vesper services will start at 7:30 p. m. Oct. 17 at the church; also week of self-denial and prayer will be observed Oct. 25-31. A pot-luck supper and social evening was planned to interest young members to participate in the WSCS, the president to secure a speaker and arrange the date. Mrs Sherman Greenleaf, Miss Alice Capen and Mrs Robert Carter reported on the Fall District Meeting at Portland. Miss Mary Whitney of the Gould Academy faculty showed slides and gave a very interesting description of her Western trip. To enable members to attend the conferece meeting at Portland, Nov. 3 and 4, it was voted to postpone the next meeting to Nov. 5. Mrs Phillips Brooks will be hostess and Mrs Clayton Fossett will have charge of devotions.
